SCOPE

This catalogue is the collection of work written by Trevor Locke, either as the sole author or as a contributor along with others. All items in this catalogue are typescripts; hand written pieces are excluded. Most of the work represents published materials. Some students essays and dissertations have been included, where these were of significance academically. Articles written for magazines and newspapers as part of being a jobbing journalist but not by-lined to me have not been included. This catalogue includes papers, articles, reports, essays and documents all of which are in a printed or typed format.
